

WHAT'S UP school plans 2008

We're delighted to announce that, despite the GST hike and other cost increases, What's Up will maintain its rates yet again. This is part of our promise to be Number One in Quality and Number One in Value. We are confident that you'll find our annual subscription rates more affordable than any other comparable publication for schools.

As we are especially keen to reach out to your financially-strapped students, we offer generous free subscriptions as well discounted rates for them.

PLANS	TERMS	DELIVERY	FREE COPIES	EXTRAS
Plan A Bulk subscriptions.	$12/year. Minimum one level. Using cash, cheque or Edusave.	Packed by class. Delivered to general office, distributed by teachers.	1 free teacher's copy per 40 student subscriptions.  10 free copies for needy students if you have at least 100 paid subscriptions.	Free IDEAS for teachers, with easy-to-print activity sheets.  Free Editor's Briefing for teachers or Assembly talks.  Publicity for your Innovation & Enterprise and other value-added programmes.  Workshops on using newspapers: $500 for a 3-hour session in your school.
Plan A-1 For needy students.	$10/year. Using Opportunity Fund or other school funds.
Plan B School-based individual subscriptions.	$14/year. No minimum number of subscriptions. Students pre-pay for 10 issues.	Each copy labeled with child's name. Packed by class. Delivered to general office, distributed by teachers.
Home Home-based individual subscriptions.	$20/year. Pre-pay for 10 issues.	Mailed to student's home

For more information, email info@newsforkids.com.sg or phone Koh Ban Heng or Chris Lim at 6741-4147. We are ready to serve your needs.